Northeast Newsletter

Senior Leadership Team (SLT) Edition

Firing on all cylinders...

What an interesting week this has been! The staff at Northeast have been busy brushing up on their IT skills, ready to launch Virtual Tutor Time and Show My Homework. After a tricky start with a trial of Skype, most tutors finally got to grips with Zoom and the reports of success were phenomenal. Personally, I have loved using SMHW and the quality of work I have received is amazing. Who knew I would be having constant dialogue regarding connectives and mini challenges from home.

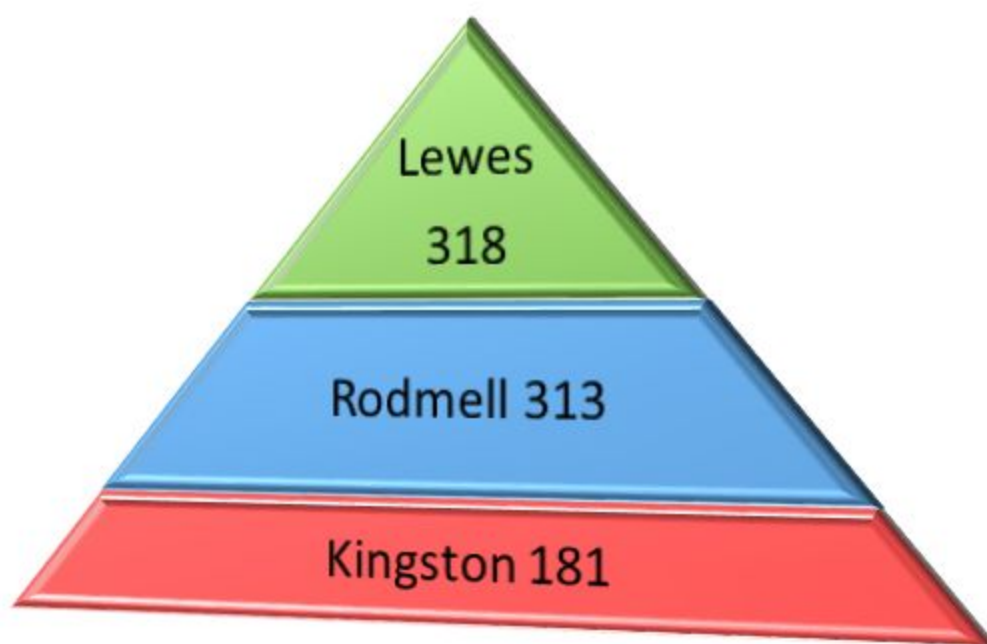

Mrs Tuxford - Assistant Headteacher, Welfare & Engagement (Pastoral)

In this issue:

- Update on the week
- House news
- House points— top scorer
- Code of Conduct Challenge

House News

After Lewes being in the lead for the majority of the academic year, I can finally reveal.....they are still in the lead!

Congratulations to our top scoring student of the week Matthew Yr 9, who achieved a whopping 78 House Points for Kingston this week - Well done Matthew!

Code of Conduct Challenge

The response to the Code of Conduct challenge was incredible. I never imagined I would have a tour of Northease in the Minecraft world, let alone to be guided by our core expectations and philosophy!

Mrs Dee Elmes - Acting Headteacher

Below is just one of the many entries we have received from our students over the last few weeks, the Senior Leadership Team looks forward to reading them all.

How to be Super Kind
